The first bolter is yet to announce against Stanley.

The Kentucky State Association of Elks closed a pleasant session at Owensboro, Thursday.

Six persons were killed and over twenty injured in a railroad accident near Columbus, O.

Kentucky's militia will receive $69,000 from the government this year, or $5,000 less than last year.

Tom Taggart will be the first of the men indicted for election frauds at Indianapolis to be placed on trial.

Mayor Bosse, of Evansville, will speak on good roads at the Greenville, Ky., chautauqua next Wednesday.

Two persons were killed and six injured when some shells being made by the Vestinghouse Electric Company exploded.

The Russians have won a decisive victory over the Turks in the Asiatic field, running them out of the valley of the Euphrates.

Stanley carried Clay county by more than two to one over all his opponents combined. The mountain boys wanted him bad.

A new colored president with an unpronounceable name has been elected in Haiti to take the place of the one who was killed.

Jesse M. Blumfield, a negro who formerly lived in Bowling Green, has been elected assistant city attorney of Chicago at a salary of $1,500.

Black, Hamlett, Keenon and Gilbert are most probable nominees; Stanley, Cohen, Goodpastor, Green and Logan are surely nominated.

A British submarine that has gotten into the Sea of Marmora is playing havoc with Turkish vessels. Another gunboat and a transport were sunk Thursday.

Capt. Geo. H. Knox, of the First Aero Squadron, U. S. A., stationed at Fort Sill, Okla., was killed, and Lieut. R. E. Sutton, his aide, perhaps fatally injured in a fall of 350 feet.

Judge Ben Gardner stated in his speeches that if nominated for circuit judge at Mayfield he would marry in five days. Thursday he "made good" and was wedded to Miss Winnie Winn, whose name was doubly appropriate for a victor's bride.

New Teacher For Bethel Female College Comes With Many Degrees.

BRIGHT PROSPECTS AHEAD

More Improvements Planned For The Coming Session.

After a correspondence of several months, Prof. W. S. Peterson, president of Bethel College, has succeeded in securing Miss L. Blanche Thomas, of Bedford, Va., for teacher of vocal music at Bethel for the coming year. It has been the ambition of Prof. Peterson, since he came here last year, to offer to the people of Hopkinsville the opportunity of a vocal teacher of high standing and of broad training and experience and he is delighted at having obtained Miss Thomas for this season.

Miss Thomas will come here from one of the most select girl's colleges in the South, where she taught music last year. She is a graduate of Norfolk College, Va., and a graduate as a soloist and teacher of voice under Signor Augusta Retoli, of the New England Conservatory of Music, at Boston. She also studied under Miss Clara E. Munser, while in Boston. Miss Thomas then studied under the direction of Vannucini, in Florence, Italy. Later she pursued her studies further under Monsieur Chalet and Oscar Seagle, in Paris. She was a pupil of Watkins Mills, of London.

She comes here highly recommended, not only for her rare talent and beautiful voice and exceptional accomplishments as a teacher of voice, but for her attractive personality. Prof. Peterson has letters in regard to her work from some of the most eminent musical talent in the south. He feels that he is exceptionally fortunate in securing a teacher so highly recommended and with such a splendidly trained and cultivated voice and looks for the people of the city to take advantage of this exceptional advantage to have the young ladies with musical talent under the direction of a teacher of such merit.

The addition of Miss Thomas to the faculty of the college makes the personnel of the teaching staff of the institution complete. Prof. Peterson is well pleased with his faculty and believes that he has a corps of teachers who are equal to any of the kind in the state.

During the summer there have been many changes and improvements on the interior of the school building, and next week the walls will be newly papered and the woodwork varnished so that everything will be in readiness for the opening of the school in September.

During the last months Prof. Peterson has been busy, and has made a personal canvass of this and nearby counties, keeping the mails alive with correspondence. He states that the prospects for the school this year are brighter than they have been in many years. He believes that this year Bethel College will be bigger and better than ever before, and with the co-operation of the people of the county and city could be made to step into the front rank with the denominational schools of the state.

Senator James Pleased.

United States Senator Olie M. James, who was in Louisville this week, was immensely pleased with the nomination of A. O. Stanley for Governor in the Democratic primary, as the overwhelming majority given Mr. Stanley on the predominating issue of the campaign fully vindicated the position of Senator James on this question. One of the most effective campaign documents sent out in the interest of Mr. Stanley was the speech of Senator James at Washington in opposition to State-

ENGLISH HELD OVER

Big Splutter In Conspiracy Case and Small Outcome.

4 DEFENDANTS DISCHARGED

Justice Morris Heard The Trial In Absence of Judge Knight.

Otis Turner, at a moonlight picnic given near Bainbridge on the night of July 12, which has attracted so much attention here and in neighboring localities lately, received its preliminary hearing in the county court Thursday. Early in the morning people interested in the case came pouring into the city in buggies and the trial had to be held in the Circuit Court room to make room for the crowd.

The first step taken in the case was the filing of an affidavit protesting against the case being heard before Judge Knight, as he was related by marriage to Turner, and by agreement Squire John M. Morris is presiding in the case.

Turner was the first witness. He claimed that Will English, J. E. P'Pool, Wesley Stewart, Emmett McCargo and Floyd Cook, for whom he had sworn out warrants, had conspired together to beat him.

Turner said that he had gone to a moonlight picnic with Miss Vivian Hall and after he had been there about an hour Will English called him outside.

Joe P'Pool and Bailey Hammonds were with English. English charged Turner with threatening to whip him. Turner denied this as a lie but English knocked him down and jumped on him. After this P'Pool pulled English off and threatened Turner himself.

Hammonds then testified corroborating Turner's evidence.

In the afternoon Judge Morris dismissed the cases against Cook McCargo, and Stewart.

English was held over for assault. No charges were made against the others.

BIG CHIEF RELENTS

And Will Permit The Democrats to Meet in Convention.

Louisville, Ky., Aug. 13.—For the purpose of issuing a call for a democratic state platform convention, members of the state executive committee were requested by Chairman Rufus Vansant of Ashland to meet in Louisville next Saturday. It is expected the call will go out setting September 1 as the convention date and Louisville as the place of meeting.

Hon. A. O. Stanley and Chairman Vansant spent yesterday morning in conference, and this afternoon the announcement that a platform convention would be called was made.

There is little likelihood, it is said, of any contests in the convention, both the Stanley and McChesney factions apparently being willing to concede the right of the other side to name their own delegates. The convention will probably declare against statewide prohibition and for county unit.

Congressman Ben Johnson of the Fourth Kentucky district, it is believed, will be chairman of the convention.

Ferrell's Boys Reunion Next Week The Event of the Summer.

GREAT GATHERING IT WILL BE

Interesting Addresses At The Tabernacle Friday Night Free To The Public.

The following additional acceptances from a distance have come in: Edgar Harris, Erin, Tenn. E. L. Boyd, Demson, Tex. W. S. Feland, Washington, D. C. Capt. Logan Feland, Love Point, N. J.

Rev. A. H. Gregory, returned missionary from India. Geo. W. Metcalfe, Beaumont, Tex. J. W. F. Williams, LaFayette, Ky. C. J. Roach, Montgomery, Ky. Geo. W. Phelps, Cincinnati, O.

Among those who have sent regrets is former Lieutenant D. A. Amoss, class of 1876, who wrote the following letter to the chairman of the invitation committee:

Cobb, Ky., Aug. 12, 1915. Lieutenant Geo. E. Gary,

Hopkinsville, Ky.

Dear Lieutenant:— I am not physically able to attend the reunion of the Ferrell Boys, but I am in full sympathy with the spirit of the meeting. You will know no nationality, no political party, and no religious creed, save the broad religion of love and good fellowship. All honor to the memory of our Tutor, who laid the foundation of our comradeship, and cemented it in a strenuous discipline and burdensome tasks. Two of my roommates, Dr. John Bell and Frank Richardson, have passed into the eternal beyond, and I too, must soon answer the last roll call. My heart truly goes out in love for all of the Ferrell Boys.

Yours truly,
D. A. AMOSS.

Another of the boys has written this pathetic letter to the chairman of the Reception committee.

Madisonville, Ky., Aug. 6, 1915. Mr. Lawson B. Flack, Chair.

Hopkinsville, Ky.

My Dear Sir:—

I know of nothing except the restoring of my health, that would bring me as much pleasure as to be with you Aug. 20th. I can hardly hope to be able to come. I had hoped from the first invitation to the reunion that I might take a turn for the better and be able to come. As there is hardly a chance for such good fortune you may count me "No" with the positive understanding however that if I should be able by that time I can advise you to change it to a great big "Yes." With kindest personal regards for each and all of the Dear Old Boys,

I am most sincerely,
W. J. DULIN.

Every indication now points to a great success. The Transportation Committee has had the tender of automobiles from many friends and there is no doubt that everything will be in entire readiness to take all of the boys to the lake in short order at 8 o'clock Friday morning.

MEXICAN SITUATION

Along The Border Not Yet Free From Apprehension.

SHIPS GOING TO VERA CRUZ

Texas Governor Told To Keep Hands Off The Trouble.

Washington, Aug. 13.—Activity of Mexican bandits on the Texas border and the Vera Cruz situation continued to occupy attention here today, although apprehension was decreasing.

Maj. Gen. Funston is given a free hand on the border, and he has not asked that the 17,000 troops at his disposal be reinforced. No action was taken on an appeal from Governor Ferguson of Texas for additional soldiers.

At Vera Cruz conditions are said to have improved. General Carranza has issued a public announcement promising full protection to foreigners. The battleships Louisiana and New Hampshire are well on their way down the Atlantic coast bound for "southern waters," to reinforce the gunboat squadron at Vera Cruz, if necessary.

The collier Jupiter was ordered to that port today from Newport.

Secretary Garrison made it plain today that the war department expects the Texas governor to deal with purely domestic disorders. "The situation is clearly defined," he said. "Insofar as disturbances relate to repelling invasion of American territory or to border uprisings, they are matters to be handled by General Funston's forces. To the extent that the disturbances are domestic and within the state of Texas, they are for the state authorities."

"Uncle Dick" Back Home.

Mr. R. H. Holland has returned from a sojourn of a couple of weeks in Chicago just in time to find a general movement had been started to induce him to run for city commissioner. Many petitions were in circulation Thursday and nearly everybody to whom there were presented promptly signed. The voters of both parties seem to be dead set on having "Uncle Dick" for Commissioner of Public Works.

BOTH AFTER BULGARIA

French and British Forces Continue Effort to Force the Dardanelles.

OFFERS MADE BALKAN STATES

Teutonic Armies Continue to Advance in Poland Despite Russian Attacks.

London, Aug. 13.—The situation in Poland and the Baltic provinces is changing little, and public interest is turning to the near east, where quadruple entente diplomats are endeavoring to revive a Balkan league and bring all the Balkan states over to their side, and to the armies of the allies which are battling against the Turks on the Gallipoli peninsula and in the Caucasus.

Diplomats of all the belligerents for the moment are concentrating their attention on Sofia, for Bulgaria holds the key to the situation. It is said she is being offered territorial concessions as an inducement for her to join one side or the other or to remain neutral. Both the German and entente ministers are declared to be finding their endeavors hindered by their friends, Greece and Serbia are unwilling to concede to Bulgaria that part of Macedonia which is her price for joining the allies, while Turkey is opposing concessions which Austria and Germany desire her to make to insure the continued neutrality of the Sofia government.

Bulgaria, too, it is asserted, is weighing the victory the Austro-Germans have gained in Poland against the allies renewed efforts in the Dardanelles and the reported signal victory of the Russians over the Turks in the Caucasus, which the military experts here believe will keep the Turks quiet on that frontier for some time.

There is nothing from the Gallipoli peninsula, but the British admiralty reports on the operations of a British submarine in the Sea of Marmora, which recently sank the Turkish battleship Kheyr-Ed-Din Barbarossa. This boat has also sent to the bottom the Turkish torpedo boat Dervish I-Satvet and an empty transport. Nothing was said of the former German cruisers Breslau and Goeben, now owned by the Turks, both of which are unofficially reported sunk.

The Russians continue to retire in Poland, but they are retarding the German advance, now regaining momentum, by repeated counter attacks and stubborn resistance. There still is considerable distance between the German armies to the southeast and northeast of Warsaw, so that seemingly the Russians will make good their retreat; only, however, to be called on to oppose a German attempt to outflank them at Kovno and farther north.

ORPHAN BOY RUNS AWAY

Took French Leave From His Home Near Howell Monday Morning.

Jimmie Phillips, aged ten years, disappeared from the home of Mr. Henry Young, near Howell, Monday morning last and his whereabouts is still unknown, although a thorough search of the premises has been made and county officials, as well as those in adjoining counties, notified to lookout for him.

The boy was received at Mr. Young's from the Kentucky Orphans' Home about a week before his mysterious disappearance. He left Mr. Young's house early Monday morning to drive the cows to the pasture and that was the last seen of him.

The youngster has light hair and hazel eyes and wore a broad brim hat and overalls. Any information concerning the boy's whereabouts

SATURDAY, AUGUST 14

The official count will be made Aug. 20 and several contests will remain in doubt until the count is completed.

Judge Bob Bradley was badly defeated for representative in Hopkins county being beaten by H. F. S. Bailey by 600 majority.

L. C. Littrell, editor of the Owen-ton Democrat, was nominated for Senator in the Owen-Boone-Gallatin district. He beat Jno. W. Douglas, of Owen county.

It is not likely that trouble with Mexico can be averted much longer. The Mexicans along the border are doing all they can to provoke intervention and Texans are already arming to resist their invasion.

Gen. Auguste, at the head of 200 troops, attacked St. Marc last Saturday and was repulsed by a Haitian committee of safety. Rear Admiral Caperton reported that Gen. Auguste and four of his followers were killed.

One of the speakership booms was punctured when R representative J. Guthrie Coke, who served in the Legislature from Logan county at the last session, was beaten for the Democratic renomination by his opponent, Lasley.

One of the surprises of the primary was the defeat of Dr. J. N. McCormack of Bowling Green, for the Democratic nomination for Representative from the Bowling Green district of Warren county. He was beaten by Joe Schneider, a popular Democrat of Bowling Green, by 106 majority. Mr. Schneider's victory is all the more remarkable from the fact that he did not enter the race until two weeks before the primary.

The neat coup of Joe F. Bosworth, of Middlesboro, in winning the Republican nomination for Representative in the Legislature in the Bell-Harlan-Perry-Leslie district, after he had withdrawn from the race, is another evidence of his political astuteness. He "withdrew" a few days before the primary, and the trick worked, his opponent being thrown off their guard; meanwhile Joe "cleaned up" in Bell county and landed the nomination.

A special train carrying $52,000,000 worth of gold and securities which had been shipped by the Bank of England from London by way of Halifax, N. S., to New York, arrived Wednesday. The train was composed of several steel cars and was guarded by forty armed men. Of the total shipment, $35,000,000 was in gold and was believed to be in the form of American double eagles. The weight of the gold shipment was about seventy-five tons. It was said to be the largest single shipment of gold ever sent across the Atlantic Ocean in one vessel.

Since the primary is over and the State ticket has been chosen, Democrats are turning their attention to the platform on which the nominees will make the race in November. The consensus of opinion among the party leaders is that the State convention to draft the party creed should be held in Louisville about September 1 to 5, and this likely will be the action of the Democratic State Committees, which are expected to be convened for this purpose in the next week or so. Among those being prominently mentioned for temporary chairman of the platform convention is Congressman Ben J. Hanson, of Bardonia, the distinguished Representative of the Fourth district. Senator Ollie James has also been suggested for the place, but he is said to favor Congressman Johnson for the honor.—Times.

WOMEN THIEVES IN CHURCHES

Boston Complaints That Band is Systematically "Working" the Sacred Edifices of That City.

A clever band of woman thieves is suspected of "working" the wealthy congregations of several large Boston churches. Rectors and sextons of at least two houses of worship have been notified recently of purse and handbag thefts during services. Circumstances have led to the conviction that it is the same band that operated last spring among Back Bay churchgoers. Trinity Church in Copley square and St. Paul's Episcopal Cathedral have been visited by members of the female gang lately.

The suspects are all women. One of them, at least, disguises herself in deep mourning, apparently to throw her prospective victims off their guard. Others of the suspected band are stunningly gowned girls, attired always in the latest styles. One of the suspects is about fifty years old, another is said to be not more than twenty. Invariably the thefts are from women in the congregations, and most often the stolen articles disappear during communion services, when the communicants leave their pews to receive the sacrament. They return to find that the demure, well-attired girl who sat beside them is gone; so also is the purse or handbag, containing money or jewelry, perhaps, which they had left on the cushioned seat when they went forward. Or again, the sorrowful, aged woman in widow's weeds, whose heavy black veil had completely hidden her features, has vanished and the worshiper's costly muff or rich fur piece is missing, too.—Boston Post.

GOING BACK INTO HISTORY

Italians and Greeks, With Small Forces, Captured Constantinople in Year 1453.

On account of the fact that the Turks are in this great European war it is interesting to recall from the pages of history that on May 29, 1453, the forces of the Italians and Greeks, numbering only about 14,000, conquered Constantinople against an estimated defending army of Turks of 200,000. This has been disputed in history as to numbers engaged, but the salient fact remains that the city founded by the Emperor Constantine was captured by the Italians and Greeks at that time.

The days following the Crusades had been marked by changes indescribable in brief description. The Mohammedan element had become dominant. Then in a political movement the Italians and Greeks assaulted the very citadel of Mohammedism and after a long fight against tremendous odds captured the then rather insignificant capital of the Gateway to the Orient, which has been the scene of many strifes since that time and is now one of the main issues of the greatest of all wars. The Arabic peoples had been aroused by the growth of Mohammedanism. The thought that if a devotee of Islamism died for his faith he was at once destined to translation to the seventh heaven was paramount to all other thoughts. Then it was that the uprising of the Christian Latins and Greeks intruded into the long years of the rule of Islam and conquered Constantinople.

Junketing Refrigerator.

One of the most practical junkets that Uncle Sam has ever sponsored is the specially fitted refrigerator car that has been started around the country to demonstrate proper methods of handling eggs and poultry for shipment.

The car is a complete refrigerating laboratory, which carries its own engine to operate the cooling apparatus. It is divided into two rooms. The first is of a temperature slightly below normal, for the gradual cooling of the poultry before it is placed in the other room, which is the refrigerator.

Experts from the department of agriculture make the demonstrations with poultry and eggs supplied by the local dealers. The scientific candling of eggs and their skillful packing for long shipment are also demonstrated.

Telephones in Canada.

Next to the United States, Canada has the largest number of telephones in proportion to the population.

The telephone business of Canada for the year ended June 30, 1914, showed an increase of more than $2,250,000 in gross earnings, while the telephone companies reported a decrease of $112,000 as compared with 1913.

The gross earnings of the telephone companies last year totaled $17,297,268, with gross operating expenses of something over $12,000,000. The net earnings were $4,500,000. The gross earnings were equal to $33 per telephone. The total number of telephones is 521,144, or one for every 15 of the population. The average is exceeded only by the United States.

Rifles in Armies.

Each army now fighting in Europe uses a rifle different from that used by each of the others. The Russians have the longest rifle, the French the longest bayonet, while the Austrians use the heaviest bullet. The rifles with the largest calibers are those of the French and the Austrians. The German rifle attains the greatest muzzle velocity. The British have the shortest rifle, but with the bayonet added the weapon is longer than the rifle and bayonet of the Belgians and

DEATH AS AN ADVENTURE

Editor's Comment on Remark That is Said to Have Been Made by Charles Frohman.

"Why should we fear death?" said Charles Frohman of New York, aboard the Lusitania as he gave his life-belt to a woman. "It is the greatest adventure that can come to one." The words were distinctive to an American gentleman facing finally, death an adventure! And so it is when one has lived largely. Then, the full measure of earthly experience having been lived, eternal values established and the divine in us unfolding daily, it holds the yet richer promises and expectation in that continuation we hope for and of which we know so little. Change, growth, the opportunity to live more largely, and yet more beautifully. In the other event, the illusions of life all gone, its futilities weighing us down, the pitcher broken at the well, and the final weariness at hand, is death not a great and beautiful hazard? Despite its outward ugliness, a carcass at the bottom of the sea, a mangled body rotting in a deserted trench, does it not captivate the imagination? Extinction, maybe; a blotting out, that complete and dreamless peace from which there is no awakening, or yet—new life, new leaf to suit the newer day. A chance to mend the broken shard, the rebirth of old enthusiasms, illusion recreated, the larger aspiration, the fuller life. After all, what a gamble with unseen forces death is! Incidentally, how brave and how beautiful must have been, must still be a soul which, under such circumstances, could have uttered a sentiment so exalted. To go, not like a quarry slave, but to wrap the draperies of the deep about one and lie down peacefully—Isn't it fine? Isn't it the quality that belongs peculiarly to American manhood?—Tom Bodine in the Paris (Mo.) Mercury.

WORK FOR TRADE EXPANSION

United States Has Splendid Chance to Increase Its Commerce With Eastern Countries.

A delegation of distinguished Chinese merchants and statesmen have done this country the honor to visit us with the expressed purpose of learning western ways from us, which they deem superior to their own. It is a compliment which is duly appreciated, and, while Uncle Sam is entirely willing and ready to act the part of schoolmaster, he should also take advantage of the occasion to become a student and learn from others while teaching them. He can learn from the visiting Chinese gentlemen a lesson in progress and enterprise. What they are doing by coming here Uncle Sam should also do by sending delegations to other countries on a similar mission. We ought to send representatives and observing business men and statesmen to the countries south of us. We, too, want to know what and how to buy and we want to know what our neighbors have to sell, and what they wish to buy from us. Similar delegations could be sent to the orient, and especially to China, that is awakening, and where 400,000,000 people are anxious to trade with us. There is practically no limit to the commerce which could be carried on between this country and other countries that we have neglected too long. Not only cotton, although cotton is a great product, may be considered. The visiting Chinese said that they wanted our lumber, and by sending ships through the Panama canal we can get our surplus products into the Pacific and as far as the seas extend, and successfully compete with any other nation.—Memphis News-Scimitar.

Went Down With Lusitania.
"A truth can be proved in just one way—by living it." And those who know and understand a little of what he called the meaning of his life, realize that Elbert Hubbard did this. In one of the best of "The Little Journeys," that he has written, occurs this: "We give the name philosopher to men who make other men think." So Elbert Hubbard was a great philosopher. No one who has seen the biggest Roycrofters at work or play can ever doubt this. All the beautiful theories and sentiments that he has sent abroad as mottoes are there, in that little corner of the country, put into everyday use.

What John Ruskin and William Morris began—he carried out. "The Beauty of Usefulness" and "The Usefulness of Beauty" was made manifest to all who took the little journey to the home of the Roycrofters. How those two leaders would have gloried in him!

Roumanian Characteristics.
The Roumanians are fond of their folk tales and proverbs. One of the most popular of the proverbs is: "The Roumanian never dies." The Roumanian is anything but arrogant, yet the pride shown in the proverb is exemplified again in the fact that he will not do domestic service if he can avoid it.

SALADS FOR SUMMER

EASILY PREPARED AND APPETIZING PREPARATIONS.

What Is Known as Philadelphia Lobster Salad Is One of the Best—Excellent When Made With Potatoes and Apples.

Philadelphia Lobster Salad.—Boil one large or two medium-sized lobsters and pick to pieces when cold. To make the dressing for them, beat the yolks of two raw eggs with a teaspoonful of salt, a pinch of cayenne, one-half teaspoonful powdered sugar and full teaspoonful mustard wet with vinegar. Add gradually, and at first very slowly, one cupful olive oil. When quite thick whip in the strained juice of one lemon. Beat five minutes before adding two tablespoonfuls vinegar. Just before serving add to the dressing one-fourth cupful of sweet cream whipped to a froth; stir all well together and into the lobster. Line a salad bowl with the crisp heart leaves of lettuce, put in the seasoned meat and cover with a little more whipped cream. If a little more acid is liked, four tablespoonfuls of vinegar may be used.

Walnut Salad.—Chop lettuce and the whites of two eggs, hard boiled, separately, not too fine. Toss lightly together, sprinkle the top thickly with English walnuts and the yolks of the eggs chopped coarsely. Pour over them any good salad dressing and serve on crisp leaves of lettuce.

Potato and Apple Salad.—Cut in small cubes four cold boiled potatoes and six tart apples that have been peeled and parboiled without sugar for five minutes. Dress in the order given with one-fourth of a teaspoonful of paprika, two teaspoonfuls of salt, six tablespoonfuls of olive oil, a tablespoonful of onion juice, a drop or two of table sauce and six teaspoonfuls of white vinegar; allow the ingredients to marinate in the dressing for ten minutes and then serve in individual lettuce nests, garnish with stuffed olives and rings of apples sprinkled with lemon juice to preserve their whiteness.

Cucumber and Water Cress Salad With Banana Dressing.—Mince finely a bunch of fresh water cress and chop in small pieces of medium-sized cucumber that has been soaked in iced salt water for three-quarters of an hour; toss the two vegetables lightly together and place directly on the ice until ready to serve, seasoning in the process with a saltspoonful of salt, a pinch of white pepper and a little celery salt. Prepare the dressing by pressing three bananas through a puree sieve, heating to a paste with beaten egg and beat for five minutes longer, slowly pouring in three tablespoonfuls of olive oil and stirring constantly; season with a little French mustard, a few drops of lemon juice and a sprinkling of powdered cinnamon, and pour over the cress and cucumber; arrange on a salpicon of chopped celery garnished with quarters of lemon and blanched nuts.

Orange Custard Pudding.
Six oranges pared and cut in small pieces. Place in baking dish and sprinkle over them one cupful of sugar. Beat the yolks of three eggs till quite foamy. Then with two tablespoonfuls of cornstarch dissolve in a little cold milk, stir into 1½ pints boiling milk on top of stove, stirring constantly to prevent scorching, until it thickens. Then remove and let cool a little. Flavor with one tablespoonful of butter, one tablespoonful flour, one small teaspoonful salt and pepper to taste. Cook potatoes until soft, then mash them; cook milk and onion separately and when starting to boil add the mashed potatoes. Make a thickening of the flour and butter and a little of the milk; then add to the milk and potato and cook five or ten minutes. A little chopped parsley and celery salt are an improvement, if desired.

Scalloped Macaroni.
Take the remnants of any fresh-roasted meat and cut in thin slices; lay them in a dish with a little plain boiled macaroni, season thoroughly with salt and pepper, add a little catchup; fill a deep dish half full, add a very little finely chopped onion and a layer of sliced tomatoes, having previously covered the meat with stock or gravy; make a thick crust of mashed potatoes and bake till this is brown in an oven that is not too hot; this is a meal in itself.

Leather Cake.
One cupful of sugar, one cupful of milk, two scant cupfuls of flour, one egg, one tablespoonful of butter, half teaspoonful soda, one of cream of tartar and flour to taste. Soften (but do not melt) the butter and beat in sugar, then beaten egg, then add milk, then flour sifted several times with saleratus and cream of tartar. This makes a splendid fine-grained loaf cake and is not at all like a cheap cake.

To Clean Shades.
Wring cloth out in warm water (not hot). Have dish of baking soda. Dip cloth in soda, wipe off shade, then take a dry cloth to dry shade. You will find the shades look like new. At first they will look dark, but will dry out as white as when new.

Creamed Tomatoes on Toast.
To each cupful stewed tomatoes add one teaspoonful each flour and butter creamed together. Season with salt and pepper. Cook until it thickens. Pour over toast and serve at once.

EVERY CONTESTANT A WINNER
AND NOBODY CAN LOSE

Trip To Mammoth Cave Will Not Cost A Cent

The Kentuckian has put on a subscription campaign which began July 19, which every contestant will be a prize winner, in which the contestants can work together and help each other and all unite in a common purpose. The plan is a simple one and the proposition is that every lady or girl who secures a club of 20 subscribers to the Kentuckian at $2 for a year's subscription, or a larger number of shorter term ones to make $40, will be given a FREE TRIP to MAMMOTH CAVE, all expenses paid, occupying two days.

Trips to the Cave are always fascinating, especially to the young, and everybody desires at some time to see this greatest of all caverns, the one thing above all else that makes Kentucky a mecca for tourists the world over. Even those who have seen the Cave before find something attractive in visits again and again. The Cave is so vast, its wonders so great and its attractions so numerous that one never tires of inspecting its miles and miles of underground passages.

There is not a neighborhood in Christian or adjoining counties in which some young lady cannot in one day secure 20 subscribers who will pay for a year's subscription to the Kentuckian and the deed is done, and this wonder of the world may be visited without its costing her one cent. The rules of the contest will be easily understood and capable of no understanding.

Subscriptions May Be Sent In at Any Time
From Now Until September 15.

They may be for a year or fractional parts of a year to make up $40 in each club. They may be for one year or more than one, not to exceed 5 years to any one subscriber.

Voluntary renewals in the office cannot be credited to clubs. The young ladies may secure rewards but must bring or send subscriptions in themselves.

Should any girl fail to collect a full club, she may transfer her strength to some friend, or by paying the amount necessary to complete the cost of the trip in cash, she may go on the same basis as the others.

The Contest Began Monday, July 19th And Will Close September 15th.

There will be no restrictions or limitations as to the territory. Get subscribers anywhere in or out of the county.

Only such payments on subscriptions as are made on or after July 19 will be included in clubs.

The contest will be conducted by the Business Manager of The Kentuckian and the names of those who desire to enter the contest for the trips offered will be given every possible assistance in getting up clubs.

In former contests many girls who did effective work in securing subscribers failed to secure awards, because others got more subscribers. This time every dollar collected represents a fixed value and every girl who gets up a club will be sure of the trip. The more the merrier. We would like to take 100 girls on this great outing.

TRAP FOR SPARROWS

Is Being Shown By The Inventor--Catch Animals Also.

Mr. Geo. W. Metcalfe, brother of Messrs. T. L. and John J. Metcalfe, and a former resident of Hopkinsville, and Dr. Decatur D. Dennis, of Texas, are in the city in the interest of working up this territory with their Automatic Animal Fish and Bird Trap. The trap is used in catching all kinds of game and was put on exhibition in the Metcalfe lot adjoining Hotel Latham, Thursday afternoon late, and since that time nearly fifty English sparrows have been caught in the trap.

Dr. Dennis invented the trap while in Corpus Christi, Tex., where he went on account of ill health. He became interested in the means that were being employed to rid the country of such pestilences as rats, English sparrows and other small animals and concluded his observations with the invention of the trap. It was patented in May 8, of this year. Later Dr. Dennis met Mr. Metcalfe in Beaumont, Tex., and he became interested in the prospects of the trap and purchased a part interest in the ownership of it.

They decided later to come to Christian county to make temporary headquarters. They expect to organize a company for the manufacture of the trap at a later date and may locate the manufacturing plant here. Since they have been here they have taken over $300 worth of orders for the trap.

The trap was originally designed to catch only smaller animals, but it is equally as successful for trapping animals of larger size, such as opossums, coons, minks, foxes and rabbits. Dr. Dennis in recent catches has caught as many as 73 rats in a single catch. He has caught as many as six squirrels at a time and says with favorable conditions he could catch over a hundred sparrows.

One of the best features of the trap is that it does not injure the animals and is, on account of that, especially adapted to trapping fur-bearing animals. The trap is now on exhibition in the Metcalfe lot and Dr. Dennis and Mr. Metcalfe, who have their headquarters temporarily at the Avalon, are glad to show and explain it to any one who is interested in the use of traps.

SEWING CLUB ORGANIZED.

On Saturday afternoon Aug. 7, a number of ladies met at the New Idea Consolidated Graded & High School and organized a sewing club. This is the first step taken in this part of the county towards making the school the social center of the community.

The time of meeting will be arranged later. All kinds of sewing, embroidery and fancy work, as well as household arts and sciences, will be handled by the club. The work will be under the direction of the president, Mrs. O. M. Barnes and Miss Jennie West, who is principal of the school.

It is also understood that social questions of various natures will be taken up by the club. This will fill the want of a long felt need of farmers' wives who live in isolated districts, a long distance from neighbors. Previously the only social center was the church. There the most vital of social questions received too little attention, and the question of household management, sanitary housekeeping, modern cooking, etc., were not touched.

The first link of the new social movement was forged five years ago when the Bluff Springs telephone company was organized. Now there is a telephone in almost every farm home.

The club proposes to handle the economic problems of the housewife, which have grown to be of much importance. Fruits and vegetables of untold value are going to waste all over our county because housewives do not know how to can and preserve them. Canned fruit is bought at the stores in their stead.

The consolidated school is meeting with splendid success. This year there were twelve graduates. Dr. C. M. Thompson, of Hopkinsville, addressed the class and Prof. L. E. Foster presented the diplomas. A splendid musical program was rendered under the direction of Miss Annie Pierce. The school also sent out a number of teachers.

Extensive preparations are being made for the coming term, which will begin Aug. 30. An additional instructor has been added to the High School department this year, and the building has been enlarged. The school offers all the opportunities of a modern graded and High School. The manual training department will be organized under a special instructor. In addition to the regular high school course Music, domestic science, a teachers' and manual training course is offered.

Fought by Organized Labor.

Organized labor is gloating over the defeat of Judge John L. Dorsey, of Henderson, who sought the Democratic nomination for Circuit Judge in the Henderson-Union-Webster district. The nomination was won by Sam V. Dixon, of Henderson, the present district Prosecutor. Judge Dorsey, sitting as a special Appellate Judge, wrote the opinion of the highest court knocking out the Workmen's Compensation act passed by the last Legislature, and thus incurred the bitter opposition of union labor.—Louisville Times.

Remarkable Singing Stone.

One of the most remarkable of singing stones is to be found on the southwest coast of the island of Hawaii, in the group of islands bearing that name. This is a sand bank. It appears that a tone like that of a melodeon is produced by moving one's hand in a circle through the loose sand. If the observer kneel, with both hands in the sand, and slide down the bank, the sound becomes louder and louder until it resembles distant thunder. The greatest sound is produced from this sand bank when one lies prone on it and another person drags him by the heels down the bank, carrying a large quantity of sand down with him.

LOVE ON A MOUNTAIN

By ELSA DORAN.

The mountain seemed very near the sky on that hot July day. The sun burned the sparse grass around the old farmhouse, but Amos Bently shivered and moved his chair out of the shade of the apple tree.

"Seems like the wind's in the east, honey," he said to Priscilla.

The girl looked down and a wistful smile curved her lips. She was pale with the intense heat, but she knew that the old man's sluggish blood was chilled.

Priscilla stood on the doorstep looking off at the hills which billowed away into a dim blue haze.

The thought that was ever present smote her sharply now. If anything happened to grandfather what should she do? What could she do?

Teach school, of course, and there were her domestic talents. Was she not even now supporting herself and her grandfather by the sale of her pickles and preserves, her canned fruit, her potted mince meat?

She could continue to do that, but it would be horribly lonesome on the mountain top—and unsafe to stay there alone. Priscilla was young. She longed for pleasure, for love.

She blushed at the thought, and smiled as she remembered her mother's oft-repeated advice. "Do your duty, my dear, and Love will find you out—no matter where you hide!"

"Fancy Love finding me atop of Rattlemountain!" laughed Priscilla, as she took down a shining tin pail. "In the meantime, while I'm waiting for him, I'll pick those blackberries before the birds eat them up."

The farther side of the field bordered the woods, and the blackberry thicket between was laden with fruit.

In the deep shadow of her pink sun-bonnet, Priscilla did not see the dark clouds piling up in the southwest. Suddenly came the avalanche of great, warm drops that soon became a heavy downpour.

Priscilla turned to flee.

A blackberry vine caught her foot and she fell full length on the ground. Horrible pains darted through her ankle as she tried to wriggle to her feet. Her elbows were deep in the crushed blackberries from her overturned pail.

"Wait a moment!" called a man's voice, and a pair of strong hands gently lifted Priscilla from her ignoble position and set her upon her feet. She winced, screamed and fainted in her rescuer's arms.

"The—dickens!" whistled the young man as he staggered across the field with his burden, for he was small and slender and, although muscular for one of his build, he found Priscilla no light matter.

He reached the little farmhouse, and, as he almost fell up the steps, the kitchen door opened and grandfather's worried face appeared.

"What's happened to Prissy?" the old man quavered. "Sprained ankle, I think," panted Priscilla's deliverer as he laid her down on the sofa in the sitting room. "Got any smelling salts?"

But Priscilla was recovering rapidly. Her eyes opened and met a pair of very blue eyes in a thin, brown face—a strong face, but a winning one.

"Yes, sir," he was saying to grandfather in the most respectful voice, "here's my card. I represent the Pepperton Pickle and Preserve company."

Priscilla sat up on the couch and discovered that grandfather had removed her shoe and stocking, and, with the aid of her rescuer, was engaged in putting a cold compress on the damaged ankle. As in a dream she saw the young man go out and return with a pail of icy water from the deep well.

He was panting as though the exertion of pulling up the well bucket was too much for his puny strength. Most of the story book heroes would have brought in the well sweep itself on one shoulder!

At that whimsical thought Priscilla laughed outright.

"There! I knew you were all right," cried grandfather, tucking a shawl around her injured foot. "Mr. Conwell's going to send the doctor up the mountain." He leaned over and kissed his granddaughter.

Before leaving Mr. Conwell disclosed the fact that he had been sent by the Pepperton Pickle and Preserve company to see Miss Bently with a view to obtaining her services as chief of their "homemade" preserve department.

Long after he had gone down the mountain, Priscilla lay on the sofa looking out at the sun blazing over the new-washed world.

He had promised to come back again and his eyes betrayed an intention to return again and yet again until Priscilla bade him stay beside her always.

Grandfather sat nodding and dreaming about coming days of affluence when Priscilla should have her own pickle factory.

Then Priscilla remembered her mother's saying: "Do your duty—and Love will find you, no matter where you hide." (Copyright, 1915, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

COLORED FUGITIVE

Came In Yesterday And Gave Himself Up To Authorities.

Yesterday afternoon, in county court before Judge Knight, the examining trial of Green Campbell, (colored) was held. He is alleged to have shot Ed Greenway, another negro, while in a crap game out in the Church Hill neighborhood, about two months ago.

Campbell came in to-day and gave himself up to the authorities.

Campbell and several other negroes, who claim to be eye-witnesses of the scrape, claim that Campbell shot at Greenway but missed him and that Greenway accidentally shot himself.

GUS THOMAS, THANKS THE PEOPLE OF CHRISTIAN CO.

Now, since it has been definitely ascertained, that I have been nominated at the recent primary election, for Judge of the Court of Appeals, in the first district in Kentucky, I wish to extend my profound thanks to the voters of Christian County, for the hearty and generous support, which they give me in that election. They have placed me under a debt of gratitude which I shall endeavor to pay, by making a faithful, industrious, honest and upright officer.

It will be my ambition to serve you in such a way, as to bring no blush of regret to any voter, whether he supported me or not. I could not have won this nomination, without the hearty and active support of my friends in your county, many of whom I would like to especially mention, but the list would make this article too long. Suffice it to say, that you will ever occupy a green spot in my memory, and a warm one in my friendship, and whenever, I can serve any of you in an honorable way, the night will not be too dark, nor the road too long to prevent me from doing so.

Again thanking you most heartily, from the bottom of my heart.

Most sincerely,
GUS THOMAS.

WHY IS A BUTTERFLY CALLED A BUTTERFLY?

Did you ever, when you were young, call yourself Prissy Mice, if you name happened to be Mary Price, or talk about tuckleberry harts when you meant huckleberry tarts? If you never did do these things you were unusual. Most children reverse the initial sound of two words used together just to see what results they can get.

So, it is suggested, the butterfly was named.

He fluttered by—so somebody talked of the flutter by. What more natural than transposing the initial consonant sounds—and getting the result butterfly? Butterfly the name remained, and many a child, transposing sounds as the habit of children is, has called a butterfly a flutterby.

COLORADO RADIUM.

Washington, Aug. 13.—Secretary of the Interior Franklin K. Lane announces that the production of radium from Colorado carnotite ores by the Bureau of Mines, in connection with the National Radium Institute has passed the experimental stage in its new process and is now on a successful manufacturing basis. He also declared that the statements made to Congress concerning the ability of the Bureau of Mines to produce radium at a greatly reduced cost over other processes had actually been accomplished and the costs were even less than predicted.

"The cost of one gram of radium metal produced in the form of bromide during March, April and May of the present year was $36,050. I am informed by Dr. Charles L. Parsons, who is in charge of the radium investigations of the bureau, this includes the cost of ore, insurance, repairs, amortization allowance for plant and equipment, cost of Bureau of Mines co-operation, and all expenses incident to the production of high grade radium bromide. When you consider that radium has been selling for $120,000 and $160,000 a gram, you will see just what the Bureau of Mines has accomplished along these lines.

"The cost of producing radium in the small experimental plant during the first few months of the Bureau's activities was somewhat higher but not enough to seriously effect the final average.

"The public, however, should not infer that this low cost of production necessarily means an immediate drop in the selling price of radium. The National Radium Institute was fortunate in securing through the Crucible Steel Company the right to mine ten claims of carnotite ores belonging to them and this was practically the only ore available at the time. Since then new deposits have been opened but these are closely held and according to the best judgment of the experts employed by the Bureau of Mines the Colorado and the Utah fields, which are much richer in radium bearing ores than any other known, will supply ore for a few years only at the rate of production that obtained when the European war closed down the mines. The demand for radium will increase rapidly, for the two or three surgeons who have a sufficient amount of this element to entitle them to speak from experience are obtaining results in the cure of cancer that are increasingly encouraging as their knowledge of its application improves. A few more reports like that presented to the American Medical Association at its recent San Francisco meeting and the medical profession as a whole will be convinced of its efficacy. Under all the circumstances that have come to my knowledge it does seem to me that it behooves the government to make some arrangement whereby these deposits, so unique in their extent and their richness, may be conserved in the truest sense for our people, by extracting the radium from the ores where it now lies useless and putting it to work for the eradication of cancer in the hospitals of the Army and Navy and the Public Health Service.

"The ten carnotite claims being operated at Long Park, Colorado, by the National Radium Institute have already produced over 796 tons of ore averaging above two per cent uranium oxide. The cost of ore delivered at the radium plant in Denver has averaged $81.30 per ton. This includes 15 per cent royalty, salary of Bureau of Mines employees, amortization of camp and equipment and all expenses incident to the mining, transportation, grinding and sampling of the ore.

A concentrating plant for low grade ores has been erected at the mines and is successfully recovering material formerly wasted. Grinding and sampling machinery has been installed at Denver and a radium extraction plant has been erected in the same city. The radium plant has now a capacity of three tons of ore per day, having been more than doubled in size since last February. Before that time the plant had been run more or less on an experimental scale although regularly producing radium since June, 1914. To July 1, slightly over three grams of radium metal had been obtained in the form of radium barium sulfate containing over one milligram of radium to the kilogram of sulfate. The conversion of the sulfates into chlorides and the purification of the radium element is easily accomplished and with

TO THE VOTERS OF THE CITY OF HOPKINSVILLE

I hereby announce myself as a candidate for commissioner of the City of Hopkinsville, subject to the action of the voters of said city in the non-partisan primary election to be held on Saturday, October 16th, 1915.

In doing this I have given careful consideration and study to the law under which the Commission Form of Government was adopted and will be installed, and am fully in accord with its spirit for merit, business methods and constant service in the administration of the affairs of the city.

My interests are in common with your interests—the development of Hopkinsville and to take advantage of its geographical location to make it a prominent industrial and commercial center. I believe that a business administration by business men in accordance with ambitions and possibilities of the city will have the effect of bringing this about.

The law enabling the Commission Form of Government for the city of Hopkinsville constitutes my platform—merit in service, economy in administration and non-partisan in the conduct of municipal affairs. To these outlines I pledge my adherence to the absolute letter.

I shall stand for taking the public into complete confidence so that all citizens and taxpayers may know at any time just how their city stands with the world.

I shall stand for the extension of permanent streets and value revery small loss of material. Unfortunately, however, special acid proof enamel ware, obtainable only in France, has not been delivered of sufficient capacity to handle the crystallization of the full plant production, so that little less than half the output, or to be exact, 1304 milligrams of radium element have been delivered to the two hospitals connected with the National Radium Institute. The radium remaining can be crystallized at any time from neutral solution in apparatus already installed, but the greater rapidity and efficiency of production of this very valuable material by the methods used have decided the Bureau of Mines to await the completion of apparatus now being built before pushing the crystallization to full capacity.

"The average radium extraction of all ores mined by the National Radium Institute has been over 85 per cent of the amount in the ore as determined by actual measurement. The amount present in the ore has been found in fact to be essentially the same as the theoretical amount required by the uranium-radium ratio. The extraction figures for the last five carloads of carnotite treated has shown a recovery of over 90 per cent in each case.

"A bulletin giving details of mining, concentration and methods of extraction is being prepared by the Bureau of Mines and will be issued early in the fall."

ceived for every dollar expended, for merit and integrity in the city service, considering first of all the qualifications, fitness and ability of the person to perform it, always with the view of increasing the desirability of Hopkinsville as a place to live and a place to invest capital.

I submit my record of twenty-two years engaged in business pursuits, fifteen consecutive years of which were spent as Deputy Clerk of the Christian County Court, and in which capacity, with one year as Secretary of the State Board of Equalization at Frankfort, Ky., I acquired an experience and knowledge of property values that I believe you will consider to be an asset in handling the tax assessments of the city. My close contact for many years with business, and particularly the business of this community, should equip me with a fitness to serve you in a satisfactory manner.

If you should elect me to the important office I would accept it as a public trust calling for my best experience and undivided time and attention to serve all of the people and not the instrument of any clique, class or clan.

Upon this platform I ask your careful consideration and if you can accord me your support I shall be profoundly grateful.

There is nothing impossible about a white blackbird or a brown black bear. In this connection "black" means a variety, not a color. The Yellow sea is not yellow, and the White mountains are not white.

Children vs. Routine.
With the very young children it is essential to have a fixed regularity in the daily routine, if it can possibly be carried out. This is necessary because it is the only way of getting children into the habit of disposing of the daily necessities in a routine way. In the matter of eating, sleeping and dressing, in putting away toys and clothes, in table manners and in the details of courteous conduct, the routine may be observed with never an exception. It is apparently the only way of making sure of the habits. You know the saying about being offered an inch and taking a yard. Well, that seems to be particularly true of children in the way of learning the rules of life's game. A change from the ordinary means a license to ignore the rule. During this period, therefore, every departure from the routine involves a serious setback. When habits are being acquired no exception should be permitted. But after habits have been formed they must not be allowed to interfere with common sense or with our happiness.

Divine Nature.
Nature is pitiless; she never with-draws her flowers, her music, her joyousness and her sunlight from before human cruelty and suffering. She overwhelms man by the contrast between divine beauty and social hideousness. She spares him nothing of her loveliness, neither butterfly nor bird. In the midst of murder, vengeance, barbarism, he must feel himself watched by holy things; he cannot escape the awful reproach of universal nature and the implacable serenity of the sky. The deformity of human laws is forced to exhibit itself naked amid the dazzling rays of eternal beauty. Man breaks and destroys; man lays waste; man kills; but the summer remains the summer; the lily remains the lily; the star remains a star.—Victor Hugo.

PUBLIC HIGHWAYS

MUST BEGIN AT THE BOTTOM

First Thing to Do is to Improve Bad Dirt Roads—Money Required is Astonishingly Small.

The dirt roads are the real highways of commerce. Without them you would have little use for macadam roads or other highways of like character. In the road fabric we must begin at the bottom. As the dirt roads are improved year by year, by process of evolution, when necessity requires a certain percentage of them will become trunk lines and be converted into rock, macadam, concrete or roads of like character. This will come about when the betterment of the dirt roads has so improved agricultural and other communities through which they pass that the wealth and population and commerce justify it.

We cannot make all the roads rock, macadam or concrete roads, but we can make all our bad dirt roads good dirt roads. We can make the rock, macadam or concrete roads in certain sections and communities where country growth, wealth, population and volume of heavy traffic demand and justify it. The amount of money really required to convert a bad dirt road into a good dirt road by the use of modern road equipment is astonishingly small.

Where the roads from the farm to the railway station are partly bad dirt roads, partly good dirt roads and partly rock, concrete or macadam roads, the farmer must gauge his load not by the good dirt road, not by the good macadam road over which he passes a part of the distance, but by the bad dirt road he must travel. What we should do is to improve the road, gauging the load the producer must haul. If he has to struggle with bad dirt roads, he is the man we wish to serve. These roads are the arteries of the commerce of the soil, and our very life, credit, prosperity, education, church and future interests depend upon them.

The closer we place the producer to the markets the lower will be our cost of living. The roads which serve the producers today are the dirt roads, roads of the people, roads reaching every community, and 50 years from now the great majority of the roads serving the producers will still be dirt roads. We must deal with things real, not ideal!—Gov. Major of Missouri.

VALUE OF BETTER HIGHWAYS

Man Looking for Location is Likely to Judge Neighborhood by Kind of Roads it Maintains.

Are you doing anything for good roads? Is your community doing anything? Is your county alive to the value of rock roads, roads of a permanent type? If you are a farmer you ought to be able to realize the value of better highways more keenly than any other citizen.

It is a fact that the chance visitor and the man who is looking for a location are likely to judge a neighborhood or a region by the kind of highways it maintains. Stretches of mud holes blast a community's reputation. Bad roads kill church life and choke education. Churches and schools are dependent very markedly upon good roads. Where the roads are stretches of mud in winter and dust and old ruts in summer, neither schools nor churches may flourish.

When you find a farmer who opposes good roads and fights a reasonable taxation for building better highways you will find a man who is a drawback to his community.

The Split-Log Drag.
The split-log drag has contributed more toward the economic maintenance of public highways than any implement of modern usage. It does not require special acts of the legislature, bond issues, nor expensive educational campaigns to make it available, as usually precedes construction work.

Time for Road Drag.
As soon as the mud begins to dry up, the road drags should be put to work.

Today is the climax of a hundred years of preparation. Read in this timely, authoritative, complete, AND THE ONLY CONDENSED classic world history—of which over 2,000,000 copies have been sold in France alone—just what has taken place in the inner councils of Europe during the past one hundred years. Read in these entrancing pages how Russia has for years craftily been trying to escape from her darkness—to get a year-round open port, with its economic freedom. Read how Germany and Austria, fearful of the monster's latent strength, have been trying to checkmate her and how they have pinned all in this last, supreme stake.

The Lesson of the Past

THIS master of the pen shows you the glory that was Greece's and the grandeur that was Rome's. He guides you through the Middle Ages, the picturesque old days of feudalism and the crusades, through the Renaissance up to contemporary history, which Prof. Grover completes in brilliant manner. In the story of the past lie the secrets of today. And you will understand them better when you get the Review of Reviews for a year—for the Review of Reviews will give you a sane interpretation of the events that are taking place with such rapidity. It is not enough to read the daily news reports. Your ability to comprehend conditions, and to discuss them rationally depends on a true interpretation of the meaning and the "reason why" of events. In your mind you must bring order out of chaos—and the Review of Reviews will do it for you.

SEEMED TO SEE INTO FUTURE

Parable Told by Conan Doyle Ten Years Ago Appears to Have Moral for Today.

In his story, "The Last Galley," Dr. Arthur Conan Doyle told a parable ten years ago that seems especially apposite today.

He tells the story of a Carthaginian galley laboring over the Mediterranean to the lower harbor, many of the crew and the slaves wounded from a recent encounter with the Romans in which all the other galleys had been destroyed.

Before the harbor is reached two Roman galleys appear on the horizon, overtake the Carthaginian vessel and grapple with her. The captain of the overtaken galley, rather than submit to the indignity of capture, swamps his vessel and goes to the bottom, carrying the Romans with him.

The moral of the story lies in the words of the Punic patrician who commanded the Carthaginian galley:

"Many a time I have pointed to Rome, and said, 'Behold these people who bear arms themselves, each man for his own duty and pride. How can you who hide behind mercenaries hope to stand against them? A hundred times I have said it.'"

JEALOUSY IN ARMY SERVICE

Cavalrymen and Infantry Indulge in Little Gibes at Each Other on the March and in Camp.

The jealousy which nearly always exists between different arms of the military service used to be illustrated by the dialogues which took place between cavalrymen and infantrymen during the Civil war. It was a favorite and brutal joke on the part of the cavalrymen, who affected to despise the foot soldiers, to shout to some soldiers as the cavalry were passing the infantry on the march:

"Are you tired of walking?" Whereupon, if the infantryman, supposing that he was going to get a lift, responded, "Yes!" the cavalryman would say, "Well, try running awhile!"

The infantrymen for their part, ridiculed the cavalrymen unmercifully when they were in camp, where the cavalrymen were compelled to spend much of their time in acting as body servants to their horses.

A cavalryman was one day engaged in laboriously "cleaning down" his rather raw-boned steed. An infantryman sauntered up and, with his hands behind his back, leisurely inspected the operation.

"Hello, John!" said the cavalryman. "Think you'd like to be in the cavalry?"

"Oh, yes," said the infantryman; "but only as a horse!"

GREAT CONVENIENCE.

"You seem to have a charming country home here."

"Yes, we are much pleased with it," answered the commuter, "but the best feature about it has to be pointed out to visitors."

"And what is that?" "The location is such that I can see my train in the morning fifteen minutes before it reaches the station at the foot of the hill."

Ferrell's Boys

SOON after the death of Maj. Ferrell, the writer, with much trouble and painstaking, assisted by Mrs. Ferrell and her son, the late Chiles Clifton Ferrell, went over the school records of 30 years and compiled the list of students. This list has been revised and brought up to date, a few names added and some corrections made. The list of 621 names here given is as complete and as nearly correct as it could be made.
